Dear Mrs Lee-Brace,

Your email has been received and your excuse for the six month hiatus duly noted.

An email of the sums would suffice and I am prepared, in the interest of timely access to the materials, to come to your offices for the documents in question.

In repeating my specific query on the titled matter, I would appreciate if you could advise me as to whether you submitted any defense for my matters to the law courts of Barbados as relates to monies received from me for the referenced issues.

I would respectfully suggest that we don't commingle this specific personal query with the contingent legal representation rendered to [REDACTED] Inn Chambers.

My experience over the last five years with crossing lines in these matters has taught me that having personal matters and corporate matters [REDACTED] only lead to confusion.

Might I suggest that you address those queries to the official/registered mail address of [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Regards
[REDACTED]

I have only just seen your e-mail. Apologies for not responding sooner.

Please at your convenience provide me with a mailing to facilitate the return of the sums paid into my office as well as the return of any and all documents of yours I have in my possession.

While we are on the topic of fees and work done can we also discuss fees incurred for the matter involving [REDACTED].

Regards,

Mrs. Lee-Brace

Mrs Lee-Brace,

I wrote you previously on this matter at caption six months ago in January of this year.

To date, I have gotten no response from you.

I am again seeking a response to my queries.

In 2007, I paid you $1500 to you to represent me in a matter against FCIB.

I would appreciate if you would

1. make available all of my documents which I provided you with at that time
2. advise me of what writs/summonses/defense you filed on my behalf in this matter.

Regards

[REDACTED]
